Elk Point set to 'remember them'

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point and district residents will take time from their busy lives this week to remember those in Canada's Armed Forces who fought and continue to fight for Canada's freedom, with Remembrance Day observances set for Wednesday morning at both F. G. Miller High School and Elk Point Elementary School, and on Friday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the Elk Point Seniors' Recreation Centre.

The Friday ceremony will begin with the laying of wreaths by businesses, organizations and individuals at Elk Point's Cenotaph, just south of the Seniors' Centre, with a program of speeches to follow in the centre, winding up with a light lunch.

The weather forecast for Friday, as of press time, was for mostly sunny skies and a high of 11°, which would make this the warmest Remembrance Day in recent years.

The school programs, with Royal Canadian Legion members in attendance, will be held a day earlier than usual this year. Both Thursday, Nov. 10 and Monday, Nov. 14 are professional development days for school staff, and when added to the Remembrance Day holiday and the weekend, will give students a five day break from their studies.

Elk Point Chamber looking for high speed solution

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point and District Chamber of Commerce president Jonny Nielsen was pleased to hear a possible solution to the lack of fibre optic Internet service in the community, when Town of Elk Point CAO Ken Gwozdz reported that council has asked a company currently bringing that service to towns around the province to bring a proposal to an upcoming meeting.

Gwozdz said council had hoped the company would be available for the Nov. 14 meeting but since they were not, will hopefully have them attend on Nov. 28 instead. The company would require a third of the town residents to commit to receiving the service in order to make this one of the 40 communities they plan to serve around the province, and would install the necessary infrastructure at no cost to the town. Telus has no plans to provide fibre optic service at this time.

The chamber heard at the previous meeting that Northeast Alberta HUB is working on another possibility of obtaining high-speed service, and County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS Director Janice Fodchuk offered yet another thought: that those needing high speed could obtain it from MCSnet, which is based in this area, employs local people and gives back to the community. Gwozdz acknowledged that MCSnet should also be invited to give a presentation to the town regarding their potential to fill the needs of the community.

Airport lighting

Nielsen is also concerned that a recent engineering report received by the Town has stated that the lighting at Elk Point Airport is insufficient for landing aircraft at night, which means that fixed wing medevac planes cannot use the facility outside of daylight hours.

The report estimated a cost in excess of $1 million to rectify the situation. Gwozdz handed around copies of that report and a subsequent report by the same firm that outlined a second possibility, that of converting the facility to LED lighting, which would cost less at the outset and would save an estimated $652,000 in electricity costs over its 30-year life cycle. He said these reports could both be used as information for future grant applications to obtain funding for the project.

The airport is owned by the province and operated jointly by the town and the County of St. Paul, and Gwozdz suggested that the chamber join with the town and county in writing letters to the federal and provincial governments explaining the importance of the upgrade that would return the airport to 24-hour service.

Extravaganza sponsorship

The fireworks have been booked and the deposit paid, and Santa Claus has confirmed his attendance, but chamber treasurer Geoff Hyslop had only received cheques or commitments for $1,550 in sponsorship toward Christmas Extravaganza expenses, which include advertising and fireworks. The committee has also received some generous donations in kind, including sponsorship of the Hockey Shootout, wagon rides and turkeys and hams for the shoppers' draw, but is hoping for additional cash donations to help pay the cost of the fireworks and advertising for the event.

Tricks, treats and trendy décor

Halloween in Elk Point was celebrated with gusto all over town, with kids of all ages, many accompanied by their parents and even a well-dressed dog or two, touring the streets in search of treats, with homeowners reporting anywhere from 20 to 280 young visitors that evening.

Chamber

The Extravaganza committee agreed at their last meeting that even if they shared the cost of radio advertising with Alberta's Lakeland DMO and the Town, the chamber's share would take a very big bite out of their budget. The chamber also agreed that there was no need to advertise the event for three weeks in two communities, and passed a motion to advise both the radio station and the Town that they would not go ahead with the advertising. However, the event will be advertised on radio during the week of Extravaganza, with Fodchuk offering the use of that week's FCSS advertising contract to get the word out on the air.

Turbine price set

The chamber has now set a price for the wind turbine, which Elk Point Golf and Country Club is hoping to purchase, and is applying for grants to do so. The turbine will be offered to them for $25,000, which is roughly half of the original cost.

Upcoming events

The chamber will be represented at this year's Remembrance Day ceremony, with the president placing a wreath on behalf of the membership.

Neilsen also hopes to represent the Elk Point chamber at the Alberta Chamber of Commerce Fall Board Meeting and Ministers' Dinner in Edmonton on Nov. 30. One of the speakers at that meeting will be former MLA Doug Griffith, with his "13 Ways to Kill Your Community" presentation.

Griffith will be at Portage College in St. Paul on Nov. 24 with that same presentation and the chamber has received an invitation from the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce to attend. Having being impressed when he heard Griffith speak on that topic in the past, Nielsen urged all chamber members to attend.

Christmas Lighting Contest

The chamber agreed that they will once again sponsor the annual residential Christmas Lighting Contest, but residents will have plenty of time to prepare, because judging will take place the week before Christmas.

Combining canola while the sun shines

County of St. Paul Coun. Glen Ockerman and his son Marvin took full advantage of some unseasonably warm fall days last week to get back to the harvest, which had been on hold for most of October and early November due to rain and snow. The snow had flattened this canola to the extent that it was necessary to straight combine the field only from east to west to get the most of the crop, which was still in prime condition. After three days of November harvesting, Ockerman said Saturday that swathed crops in the area were still much too wet to combine, a situation that has now been made even worse by Sunday's rain. A combine followed by a cloud of dust, shown as Marvin continued westward, could be a rare sight this week as a result.

Community building and survival are key points of upcoming Doug Griffiths workshop

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

Community members from across all groups and walk of life are being asked to set aside some time on Nov. 24 to attend a unique workshop that will focus on keeping St. Paul and surrounding communities alive and well, while also juggling the lifestyle changes that have come along over the years.

Doug Griffiths once worked in provincial politics as the MLA for Battle River-Wainwright, and since leaving politics he has decided to focus on making rural communities sustainable.

It's been a few years since Griffiths published the first version of his book, 13 Ways to Kill Your Community, and the revised version, filled with more stories and information, is set to be released just before his visit to St. Paul this month.

Rather than focusing on what communities should do to keep being successful, the book often takes a somewhat sarcastic tone, and tells people what they need to do to kill their community, such as driving business and youth away, or living in the past.

"He's quite a dynamic, but very real speaker," says Penny Fox, general manager with the Community Futures branch in St. Paul. The session, which begins at 5:30 p.m. with a presentation, then a light supper, and finished with an evening workshop, is meant to bring the community together, and help formulate what type of community residents want to see develop, and what their priorities

Another key issue that will be addressed at the session is the fact that people are tired, stretched thin, and "people are busier than ever," according to Linda Sallstrom, manager of the St. Paul and District Chamber of Commerce.

Many of the community groups that still exist in St. Paul were founded decades ago, and it's hard to find a community group in town that isn't on the look out for more volunteers and board members.

"Life isn't the same that it was when these groups started 50 years ago," says Fox, adding people's schedules are busy, and families often travel out of town for children's extra curricular activities.

Fox, who is also involved with Champions for Change, says that group has been interested in once again addressing the community to find out what people's priorities are at this point in time.

"What is important to people now? Is it the same as it was in 2007-08?" she asks. The session will offer residents from all sectors the chance to discuss this.

"It comes back to individual responsibility. Creating the type of community you want to live in," adds Sallstrom.

Both Fox and Sallstrom feel it will be beneficial to bring someone into the community that is more of an outsider, and can offer a fresh new perspective. The event is open to everyone – business owners, seniors, youth, municipal government officials, and any individuals who simply want to make the community a better place to live.

The event will be held at Portage College on Nov. 24. There is no cost to attend, but registrations are being taken to ensure enough food is available for supper, and to allow organizers to set up the space properly.

To register for the event, contact the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce at (780) 645-5820.

Sallstrom also encourages people who may not be able to attend the full evening, to still stop by and listen to the presentation at the beginning of the event.

"I don't think there's ever been anything done like this in St. Paul before," says Fox.

Griffiths has, however, been to Elk Point and gave a similar presentation to the annual meeting of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce some years ago. With many newcomers to the membership since then, Elk Point Chamber president Jonny Nielsen urged all those present at last week's meeting to go and take a friend.

"He hits the key points of what it takes for a community like ours to survive," Nielsen said.

With due respect

This Friday, we pay homage to the men and women of Canada's Armed Forces who have served in the World Wars and multiple conflicts of the past and those who are still serving our country at home and abroad today.

One or two hours out of a year is a small sacrifice to make in return for the months and years that some of these people endured in the midst of battle, in cold, wet trenches and in the bomb bays of fighter aircraft where they knew all too well that their lives hung in the balance, and a shot could end it all any minute.

They fought on the beaches of Normandy, in the mountains and jungles of Korea, on the sands of the Middle East, in the air over Britain and on the seas of the Atlantic and the Persian Gulf.

They did it for us, so that we could live in peace. For this, we honour them with remembrance.

This Friday is Remembrance Day. Any persons, clubs, business, or organizations wishing to lay a wreath or to have a wreath laid on your behalf are asked to contact me, 780-207-5898 or recreation@elkpoint.ca as soon as possible.

Ceremonies will commence at 10:30 a.m. with the laying of the wreaths at the cenotaph outside the Seniors' Centre; the inside ceremonies will follow with a light lunch provided.

Extravaganza

The Elk Point Extravaganza committee is meeting today, Tuesday November 8th, at the Empress at 12:00 noon if you are interested in helping out or learning more about the exciting event.

The Extravaganza will be held on November 26th, the same day as the F. G. Miller Craft Sale. We're working together with F. G. Miller to ensure both events are a huge hits and that there are opportunities to discover the town, our awesome businesses, sales and of course support local home-based businesses; which will be on display at the craft show.

Not only is the Extravaganza a perfect opportunity to check items off your Christmas shopping list, but when held in conjunction with the F. G. Miller Craft sale it gives you the opportunity to discover home-based businesses you may otherwise have not known about.

Of course there will be wagon rides to and from the school and downtown core, so leave the vehicle at home and let us give you a taste of old fashioned small town charm.

Best-Dressed Business

The Rec Department is pleased to announce a new contest for businesses in Elk Point! Decorate your business, in a holiday theme, from November 14th to 21st for a chance to WIN a pizza party!

Be sure your business is decorated by November 21st for judging. Images of the businesses will go online for fan voting. The winner will receive a pizza party!

Pickleball

Our Pickleball evenings have been well attended and such a hit that an official club has been formed. If you would like more information on the club, contact me, 780-207-5898.

Thanks to the Elk Point Lions Club and the Rec Department, the Pickleball Club will be able to purchase nets and enough rackets and balls to get the club going!

Way Back When...

New boundaries, small business, new school, big money

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF NOV. 8 IN...

1986

The Town of Elk Point presented a brief to the Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission asking that the town and surrounding townships be excluded from the new Beaver River riding, and instead would remain in the Vegreville riding. Not only was a drainage easement not obtained before the channel was cut across Buck's Construction's property earlier in the fall, no easement was obtained back in 1966 when the original drainage ditch was dug, town administrator Pat Vincent told council.

1991

The end of summer saw the completion of the children's playground at the Elk Point Recreational Park and two years of work on Mural Park. Supreme Honoured Royal Lady Judy Gillis was welcomed to Elk Point by Elk Point OORP's Honoured Royal Lady Mary Kryvenchuk.

1996

Elk Point was well represented at the St. Paul - Smoky Lake Business and Community Development Association's Small Business Showcase, with two of them, Linwood Arts and Pioneer Radio Control nominated for Entrepreneur of the Year, an award that went to Mulak's Transport of Waskatenau. Irene Magnusson, Iryne Buck, Irene Melin and Muriel Holthe, along with Barbara Milholland, Grace Pinder, Mickey Cinnamon and Verona Lea Flanders followed the old adage, 'Use it up, wear it out, make it do or do without' as they gathered each week to recycle castoff clothing into quilts to keep less fortunate individuals warm.

The Elk Point Review publishes a variety of opinions as a contribution to debate on matters of public concern. Unsigned editorials express the view of this newspaper's editorial board which includes the Publisher and the Editor. Signed pieces express the view of the individual writer.

Frog Lake First Nations opened their beautiful new Chief Napewaew Comprehensive School, with Chief Raymond Quinney, Barrie Robb of Indian and Northern Affairs and Clarence Faithful, designer of the school, cutting the feather-decked ribbon. Rural input was needed for Alberta's Future Summit, but only two members of the public came out for the first of four information meetings.

Provincial Progressive Conservative leadership candidate Ted Morton came to Elk Point to outline his plans to strengthen Alberta's future. Elk Point Allied Arts Society was getting ready "to raise big money," according to president Don Conrad, as the group embarked on a $2.4 million renovation project turning the former Northern Lights Library System warehouse into a theatre and community cultural centre.

The chamber of commerce needed more funds for Extravaganza, with sponsorship coming in very slowly a and less than one-fifth of the 2010 budget received. Mark Proskiw, who joined the St. Paul football club as a bantam Bengal and this year marked his sixth and last season playing football in St. Paul was named the league's leading receiver, with 32 receptions for 630 yards and seven touchdowns in the regular season.

New judges improve Alberta's ratio

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

A string of announcements has resulted in a number of new judges and justices being named, as work is being done to better Alberta's judge ratio.

Ivan Modeste Laurie Ladouceur has been appointed as a new judge to St. Paul, in the Edmonton Region of the Provincial Court, and is already working in the community.

"It's very good news," says Renee Moore, from New Beginning Law in St. Paul, when speaking in a general sense of the appointments. "We need more judges to assist people more efficiently."

Ladouceur

Ladouceur is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan's College of Law, and was admitted to the Alberta Bar in 1992. Since then, he has carried on a private practice in High Prairie, specializing in criminal, and family and child welfare law, in the northern Provincial Court of Alberta circuit of Fort McMurray, Fort Chipewyan, High Prairie, Valleyview, Slave Lake, Red Earth Creek and Wabasca.

"Mr. Ladouceur's exemplary legal career, experience and strong ties to Alberta's northern and Indigenous communities make him an excellent addition to the Provincial Court," said Kathleen Ganley, Minister of Justice and Solicitor General, in a media release from Alberta Justice and Solicitor General, sent out in late September.

According to information in the media release, Ladouceur is committed to keeping his culture alive. He is a member of the Métis Nation of Alberta and is fluent in the Cree language. As a longtime member of the Eagle Sundance Society, he helps First Nations organize and conduct the Eagle Sundance ceremony, a spiritual tradition shared by many of the Indigenous peoples of the Great Plains region, to ensure that it will be taught and passed on to future generations.

Candidates for Provincial Court appointments are screened first by the Alberta Judicial Council and then interviewed by the Provincial Court Nominating Committee (PCNC). The PCNC provides its recommendations to the Minister of Justice and Solicitor General.

The Alberta Judicial Council has representatives from the Alberta Provincial Court, Court of Queen's Bench, Court of Appeal and the Law Society of Alberta. It also includes two individuals appointed by the Minister of Justice and Solicitor General.

The Provincial Court Nominating Committee has 11 members representing the Alberta Provincial Court, the Law Society of Alberta, the Canadian Bar Association - Alberta Branch, and representatives of the province's legal community and the public appointed by the Minister of Justice and Solicitor General.

More judges

On Oct. 26, it was announced that three more new judges were appointed to the Provincial Court of Alberta - D'Arcy DePoe, Michelle Doyle, and Jasmine Sihra. Then, on Nov. 1, the province announced Thomas Achtymichuk would be appointed to the Edmonton Region of the Provincial Court.

DePoe and Doyle were both appointed to Provincial Court, Edmonton Criminal, while Sihra has been appointed to Provincial Court, Northern Region.

The province announced earlier this month that it would be creating 10 new judge positions, while the federal government also worked toward filling seven existing vacancies.

Nine of the new positions created by the province will be Court of Queen's Bench, while the other position would be at the Court of Appeal. It has been reported that Alberta had the fewest Queen's Bench judges per capita in the nation, which has led to delays in the justice system.

A recent Supreme Court ruling, known as the Jordan decision, imposes hard time limits on how long a person has to wait to have a case heard in court, and has resulted in a number of cases being thrown out.

"Obviously, no victim would want to see their accuser go free because a matter was stayed, and neither would we," said Ganley at a recent media conference.

New of the federal government filling the seven existing vacancies came out around the same time that the province announced its new positions, responding to concerns that had been raised.

Crafts and creations

A craft and home-based business trade show filled the Elk Point Seniors' Recreation Centre with intriguing gift ideas on Saturday. Included in the mix were an array of innovative artwork using pebbles, created with flair by Loretta Moores of Loretta's Pebble Art, right, handcrafted repurposed treasures, many using weathered barn board, from Tins and Twigs, below, and an array of adorable knitted and crochet children's hats, bottom right, as well as jewelry, cosmetics, baked goods, bags, Tupperware and much more. More craft and trade shows are coming up on Nov. 25 during the Christmas Extravaganza.

'B' side winners

F. G. Miller senior boys won the B side of the Cold Lake Tournament this weekend. Corbin Ockerman was named the MVP for his team for the tourney.

Elk Point Elks hit the road for Maidstone, Sask. to take on the Jets on Saturday night, and were first on the scoreboard, Matthew Boulianne scoring just under three minutes into the game of an assist from newcomer Jarvis Nicodemus, holding the lead for more than seven minutes before the home team sent a tying goal past netminder John Steinhauer.

The Elks regained their lead late in the second, captain Jason Kalynchuk assisted by Boulianne and Derek West, but the third period brought a volley of shots from the Jets, who scored three goals in a minute and 12 seconds. Scott Ward scored unassisted to narrow the gap midway through the period, but he and his teammates were unable to even the score, and the Jets fired a parting shot with seven seconds left on the clock to win the game by a 5-3 margin.

This week, the Elks are at home on Remembrance Day with an 8:30 p.m. start against the Two Hills Longhorns, and head down to Kitscoty on Saturday night to take on the Monarchs at 8 p.m.

The Elks are currently in a three-way tie for third place in the league with the Longhorns, who are back in the league after taking a break last season, and Viking Gas Kings, another new team that joined SaskAlta this year. There is also a three-way tie for second place, between Lashburn Flyers, Wainwright Rustlers and Vermilion Rock, with the so far undefeated Marwayne Comets sitting firmly in first place. With Paradise Valley Jets taking a break this year, the SaskAlta league now consists of 15 teams and has been divided into East and West divisions, with each team playing a home-and-home with the other teams in their division and one game against each team outside their division. Games outside the division will be split, half at home and half on the road. The top four teams in each division will advance to the playoffs.

ELK POINT GIRLS STORM hosted Irma in their first home game of the season, with Heaven Colbourne facing a whole lot of rubber in net for the Storm.

Short bench all it took for a big Midget Avalanche victory

Sometimes a short bench is just what the doctor ordered! The Midget Avalanche, still looking for their first win of the year, traveled to Provost on Friday night with only two lines and four D-men in the line up.

Head coach Gerry Kjenner knew they would have to play a smarter game. Take fewer penalties, don't take yourself out of the play by going after the big hit, and especially pass the puck. Trying to get that message across to midget aged boys sometimes is a challenge. But, the Avalanche did just that, and came home with a huge 5 to 1 victory. Maybe they could have taken a few less penalties, but then again they are teenaged boys! Brody 'the Big O' Odgaard opened the scoring with the first of his two goals with a classic 'Big O' wrap around, then 'Captain Obvious' Austin Stafford led by example again this week with a goal. Little spark plug Nick 'Sparky' Anderson slipping one in upstairs past the tender, right winger Chase 'Rink Rat' Dorey with a goal and one assist, Kyle Kjenner with two assists, the rushing defenseman Hayden 'Hot wheels' Ludlage and speed demon back checker Chad 'Pickpocket' Poitras each with an assist. Goalie Shayne 'Hercules' Hurlbise closing the door on Provost.

Things were really starting to boil over in Boyle when the Bantam Avalanche traveled there this past Saturday afternoon. A good portion of the this year's bantam team played in peewee last year and faced Boyle not only in the league playoffs for the North East Banner but also in the provincials for the Zone 2 title, the Avalanche winning the league and the zone. Boyle was the provincial host. This year the boys are battling again with their old friends and it's starting to look a lot like the teams may be deadlocked again. In fact, the boys were very lucky to end up in a tie Saturday game, after the coaching staff of Greg Van Maaron, Marty Bendixen, and Tyson Stafford, called a time out with a minute left to pull the goalie and add another attacker. The plan worked, 'Lightning Liam' Ludlage scoring his second of the game with only one second on the clock to tie it up. Two goals for 'Lightning Liam' Ludlage including the tying goal, Jaden 'Jetstream' Van Maaron with a goal and two assists, Dallas 'Cowboy' Bristow and Charlie 'the Angel' Rogal with a goal each, 'Hank the Tank' Rogal, 'King Cole' Bendixen and 'Raging Paige' Henderson all on the score sheet with assists. Goalie 'Colt 45' Colton Van Maaron between the pipes in this one was solid as usual. 'Silent Sam' Henderson may be a quiet one, but some times silent is deadly and the pop valve was not be able to hold the pressure built up in this one, he was involved in a roughing altercation with the Boyle captain and spent an extra 10 minutes in the sin bin. On Sunday the bantams hosted Cold Lake, the game tied three-all until two minutes left in the second period when the Avalanche would score two quick ones to end the period, then add another in the third, the final 6 to 3 for the Avalanche. The 'Angel' with a hat trick, 'King Cole', 'Silent Sam' and the 'Cowboy' scoring, 'Lightning Liam' with three assists, 'Jet Stream' with two assists, D-men Evan 'Batman' Ockerman and Jace 'the Stafford Streak' each with a helper. A great game for D-men, 'he Streak', 'Batman', 'Hank the Tank' and 'Raging Paige' who all played a solid physical game.

Review Sports

Bombs away! Cold Lake weapons range is just down the road and they pulled out all its heavy artillery on Saturday morning against Peewee Ays goalie Vanden 'Super Mario' Moroziuk. He was getting showered with a steady bombardment of over 80 shots on Saturday morning. This team has only two lines when everyone is healthy, and the game started with two lines, but it wasn't long before two men went down and they only had eight skaters in the line up by the end of the game. Defenseman CeaJay Quinney getting the heart and hustle award in this one for his solid effort. Kobe 'the Cobra' Warawa scoring the first goal for the Avalanche, 'Mic Jager' Fontaine adding six others, Landon 'the Magnificent' Malachowski with three assists, Josef 'Red' Theriault also with an assist. On Sunday the peewee team brought up two rookies from the Atom farm team, 'St. Nic' Penner and 'Kid Kade' Fontaine getting the call to help out the peewee team, who were missing some of their regular players. They traveled to Saddle Lake to take on the Warriors in another tough game for 'Super Mario' who faced another 71 shots in a 10 to 4 losing battle. A hat trick for 'Mic Jager', the 'Cobra' getting the other one. Great effort once again by defenseman CeaJay Quinney, also by Brady 'the Bionic Man' Hymanyk, 'Wild Wyatt' Pavoll and 'Dean the Machine' Ockerman.

It was the only home game scheduled on Saturday at the ANGR, but the high-flying, undefeated Atom Avalanche really took it to the visiting Mallaig. The final a 11 to 0 win over Mallaig, who had entered into the tier one of the North East league, but will most likely drop down to tier two after meeting our team. Four goals for 'King Kong Konnor' Poitras, a hat trick for Phoenix Quinney-Canning, defenseman Cash 'CC' Capjack with two goals and setting up six with assists, Vaughn 'the Vulture' Ockerman and Ryan 'Ram Rod' Cameron with one goal each. Three assists for 'St. Nic' Penner, 'Timmy Joe' Cardinal, 'Cyclone Cole' Pierce, 'Bo Diddley' Fontaine, Kaleb 'Formula One' Flamand and Brendon Haesch Baker each with an assist. And a big "happy birthday" today going out to the Atom team manager Melissa Rogal, mother of the Spiderman, the Angel and the Tank.

Not sure what they fed these girls but there sure was some big monsters in the line up against our smaller Girls Storm team this past weekend, on Saturday when the Storm traveled to Vermilion, and again on Sunday when they hosted Irma at the home opener. Of course the Storm team does have a number of peewee aged players, but even our older bantam aged girls only came up to the shoulders of some of the players. Vermilion taking a 6 to 0 win off the Storm on Saturday afternoon. Not a bad save percentage for goalie Heaven 'the Brick House' Colbourne who faced 68 shots. The first home game of the year for the Storm was on Sunday was against Irma, who have always been one of the top teams in the league, and it didn't really play out any better for our girls the final score....12 to 0. Once again their team was much bigger, stronger and rougher and really talented with the puck, they kept coming in waves attacking our defense. But I have to say this; our girls stayed positive and gave 110 percent effort right to the very end. Pound for pound, one of the strongest defense women I have seen, Jadey 'the Lady' Capjack was the Storm Trooper of the game on Saturday. On Sunday Sydnee 'Sid the Kid' Crawford getting the honor as the Storm Trooper, she had a strong game on the fore check, and a break away where she really had to battle hard to get past the defense and still get a good shot on goal. Jenna 'Precious' Poitras, Ashley 'Hacksaw' Hunter and Rylee 'Whirlwind' Warawa all played a much stronger, more aggressive game than I have ever seen in the past. Against any of the weaker teams, these girls will be holding their own for sure.

The Novice 1A coach Jeff Morton has finally made it back onto the bench after breaking his leg right at the start of the season. His team giving him a happy return, winning in St. Paul 7 to 4. Madden 'Mad Dog' Flamand with a hat trick, 'Hurricane Kayl' Warawa with two goals, Sebastian Brosseau with one, and the first ever goal for Ella Ballas. Her brother 'Notorious Nolan', Raif 'Rug Rat' Evans Anderson, Boe Johnson, 'Hurricane Kayl' and Spencer Malachowski all with assists. And this was Spencer's first ever point.

Talking about firsts... I wonder who gets more excited about playing in their first hockey game ever, the parents, grandparents, or the kids? I expect it's not the kids, although I do know they all like the treats after the game. It was the first game ever for Jackson Rawlake, Theo Loughran, and Jonathan McAleese who played in St Paul on Saturday morning. Lennox St. Arnault who is also playing in his first year on this team didn't suit up this weekend. Second year veteran 'Wyatt Earp' Fontaine with a hat trick.

The Novice 1B team played at home on Sunday with 'Good Time Charlie' Lesyk behind the mask in net winning 10 to 1 over Mallaig. Braylee 'B J' Lesyk with a hat trick, Evett 'Snoopy' Smereka with two, Miles Koren, Kale Ockerman, Brendan Kadutski, Kaysen DeMoissac and Riley 'Coyote' Bourne all with one goal each, Charlotte and Anna Henderson getting in on the assists.

And now for the K. A. Campbell quote of the week. "It takes brains. It's not like a forward, where you can get away with scoring and not play defense. On defense you have to be thinking." Last weeks answer to: "There's nothing so uncertain as a sure thing." - Scotty Bowman

Costumes and creatures

Costumes and some fanciful and colorful decorations vied for attention last Monday as Elk Point went all out for Halloween, with youngsters toting increasingly bulgy bags of treats as they made their way through the residential districts.

*In loving memory of a dear husband, son, father, grandfather, brother and uncle who passed away
November 8, 2002.*

*Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight
or speech,
But not too far for thought
to reach,
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.*

Gagne
DECEMBER 30, 1952 -
OCTOBER 19, 2016

Maurice passed away peacefully in his sleep in the arms of his loving wife Sherry and surrounded by family and close friends.

He will be greatly missed, lovingly remembered and honored by his wife Sherry, children Amore (David Granett-Bennett), Breanne (Jason Anderson), Cody (Jennifer Perkins), Nephew Ron (Shandy Poulin) as well as his cherished grandchildren; Cameron, Zea, Reilly, Samantha, Syler and Ruby. He is also survived by his mother Gertrude Hartry, sisters; Alma, Elaine and Lucille, as well as numerous nieces, nephews and close friends.

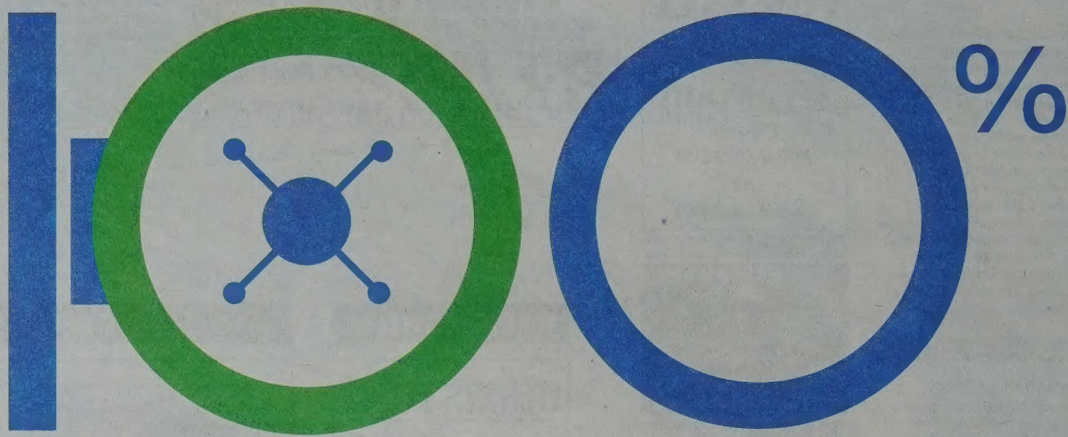

Maurice is predeceased by his father Alphonse and brother Normand.

Maurice had a wry sense of humor which would bring about laughter at the most unexpected times; even in his final hours. To go along with his sense of humor was his sense of adventure, which he loved to experience from the vantage point of his various motorcycles. It was while riding a motorcycle that he experienced the invigorating freedom of life to the fullest. During those times there was no fear only fun and where he was an expert in living in the moment. He was a private man of many intellectual pursuits, music, science, computers, astronomy, history and logic being his most primary interests; those who knew him best knew that he contrasted this by being a true romantic at heart and loved those close to him. Those qualities blended with innovation, forthrightness and insight, are what made him someone we could go to for advice and he could always provide a perspective which was previously missed.

The many years working at the Salt Plant provided the means by which he was able to keep his hands busy while his mind was occupied with trouble shooting and pondering innovative ways to make things work more efficiently...he was no stranger to hard work and diligence and the shift work he did meant he could be seen riding his bike any time of the day to and from work in the warmer months.

Maurice was a kind, gentle and caring man with great depth. He will be greatly missed.

It was Maurice's wish that no public memorial be held. Donations in his memory may be made in his name to Haying in the 30's or Elk Point Palliative Care
